IS cúis mór áthais dom fíor fáilte a chur romhaibh go léir go dtí Stáid an Ghearltaigh agus Páirc Aibhistín de Staic le h-aghaidh Cluiche Ceannais Peile na gclub.

On behalf of Kerry GAA it gives me great pleasure to welcome you all to Fitzgerald Stadium and Austin Stack Park this weekend for the climax of the Kerry Petroleum Intermediate, Junior Premier and Junior competitions. A special welcome to the players and officials of the six clubs involved as well as to the three referees, Paul Hayes, Jonathan Griffin and Seamus Mulvihill and their teams of officials.

May I also extend a warm welcome to Anthony Clifford of Kerry Petroleum who are in their fourth year as sponsors of the Club Championships and we thank them for their support of Kerry GAA.

Played in the slip stream of the All Ireland Final success, the early stages of the Club Championships culminating in the quarter-finals, were a tremendous success and generated huge interest across the county. The semi-finals played over the last couple of weekends were equally enthralling and I have no doubt that we have a feast of football in store for us over the weekend.

KERRY PETROLEUM INTERMEDIATE FOOTBALL CHAMPIONSHIP FINAL

The meeting of An Ghaeltacht and Rathmore on Sunday in the Intermediate Final is certainly a game to look forward to. Neither of these two sides will need reminding of the prize at stake for the winners of this competition – apart from receiving the Fenian Cup that is!

Both clubs have lost their senior status in recent years and no doubt they will be itching to ply their trade back up in the Senior County Championship next season.

An added incentive is that the winners progress to represent Kerry in the Munster Club Championship and a semi-final meeting on November 26th against Kildysart of Clare (Kerry venue) or Kanturk of Cork (Cork venue).

KERRY PETROLEUM JUNIOR PREMIER FOOTBALL CHAMPIONSHIP FINAL

As finals go, Saturday's meeting of old rivals Fossa and Listry does not get much juicier than this! Two up and coming clubs who have benefited from a huge increase in population in recent decades will go head to head in a winner takes all local derby. Throw in a fine sprinkling of players with senior county experience and it is easy to see how this fixture has captured the imagination of the Kerry footballing public far outside of the boundaries of the two clubs concerned.

Again, along with capturing the local bragging rights and the Tom Keane Cup, there is the incentive of representing Kerry in the Munster Junior Championship on 26th November with an away fixture against Castlemahon of Limerick or Shamrocks of Waterford.

KERRY PETROLEUM JUNIOR FOOTBALL CHAMPIONSHIP FINAL

The Con Brosnan Cup will be on offer on Saturday evening when Cordal and Firies clash swords in the Junior Championship Final. Being from the same Divisional Board, these two sides are no strangers to each other and both will be striving might and mane to capture a county title and advance to the Junior Premier Championship in the coming year. While Firies are operating out of a Division just above their opponents in the County League, that fact is hardly going to be of any relevance on Saturday evening in a game that is likely to go right down to the wire.

I wish all teams and their supporters the very best of luck this weekend and hopefully the fare on offer will reflect the high standard of football and sportsmanship that exists right now in the home of the reigning All Ireland champions!

Furies fancied to win but Córdal will prove tough opposition

By MURT MURPHY

THIS Junior Final should prove a tight affair when Furies and Córdal face off at the Austin Stack Park on this Saturday afternoon at 5pm. Both sides have points to prove and that makes this an intriguing contest because Furies lost the final last year to a fired up Castlegregory side, in fact they never got going in that game.

Córdal, who beat Furies in the group stages last year, lost out in the semi-final to the eventual winners so they will be determined to go all the way this year. So with both sides having something to prove, both sides are likely to have a go rather than taking a cautious approach.

Furies are the form team as they breezed through the County League and ended up gaining promotion to Division Two without any fuss. Then onto the Club Championship where they did not get an opening game as Asdee were unable to field on the day, but they showed their strength in depth when they gave Beale a bit of a drubbing, 3-15 to 1-8. They got a scare when they met Tarbert in the final game because the North Kerry side pushed them all the way and in fact it was their ability to score goals at vital stages that saw them top the group on a 2-11 to 1-12 scoreline.

Then to the quarter-final and Scartaglin gave them the fright of their lives. They lost Jack Sherwood and they allowed Scartaglin to come back a couple of times including added time where Donnchadh O'Sullivan had them four points clear in the 61st minute. But Furies displayed vulnerability when they allowed Sean Horan to goal and then Josh Kerin forced extra time. It was nip and tuck again before a Mike Daly goal saw them through to the semi-finals.

Then there was the SFC break and they had a number of players in training with County champions East Kerry and so last weekend they met Knocknagoshel in the semi-final. This proved to be easier than most people expected as they cruised to a 2-14 to 0-10 win with Mike Daly and Stephen Palmer getting their goals while Donnchadh O'Sullivan and Cian Doe scored 0-5 each, mostly from placed balls.

So Furies approach the final in rude health and with East Kerry duo Jack Sherwood and Niall Donohue returning after another successful East Kerry campaign. But they are a strong unit; Brian McCarthy is solid between the posts. Niall Donohue, the Palmers and Diarmuid O'Mahony are strong defenders, Jack Sherwood is a class act at midfield, and Donnchadh O'Sullivan is an ideal target man who knows where the posts are. Pdraig De Brún, who plays with Limerick, is a workaholic; while Mike Daly, Stephen Palmer and Cian Doe are dangerous forwards so overall Furies are a team with very few weaknesses.

Córdal are worthy finalists though their mid table finish in the County League was not that encouraging. But League and Championship are different animals and once they started their group games, they began to improve and show their real form. They were tested by Sneem/Derrynane in their opening game and it took a goal from a Sean Brosnan to settle a 1-13 to 1-10 win. A depleted Ballylongford were duly disposed off on a 6-18 to 0-7 scoreline but they didn't have it easy against Lispolie in their final group game. Sean Brosnan was the scoring star with 2-4 in the opening half, as they led 4-9 to 2-9 but Lispolie pushed them all the way in the second before Córdal got over the line, winning 4-17 to 2-14.

They proved too strong for Finuge in a home quarter-final with Sean Brosnan kicking two first half goals while Eamon Nolan scored another and the game was over at half time as they led 3-6 to 0-8 and they finished off Finuge in the second half. So it was Tarbert in the semi-final and while the North Kerry side pushed them all the way, before the ageless Philip O'Connor inspired Córdal to a 0-12 to 0-7 win but it was probably closer than that.

VERDICT: Furies are strong favourites to win but players like Pdraig Brosnan, Jamie Cahill, Brian Reidy and Philip O'Connor have the experience while Sean Brosnan and Eamonn Nolan are forwards who can find the net. Furies have a solid defence, Jack Sherwood is a class act while as mentioned already they have very dangerous forwards. I think that their loss last year will drive Furies on to victory but Córdal will push them all the way.

"your local oil company"

David Clifford the star but Listry might well upset the odds

By MURT MURPHY

THIS Premier Junior Final has captured the imagination not only in this county but nationwide and needless to say it's what we will name it the "David Clifford" factor.

It's the meeting of neighbours Fossa, with two current All Stars in the Clifford brothers against the Marc Ó Sé managed Listry, who have already beaten their neighbours in the group stages.

So why have some bookmakers priced up Fossa as the favourites over Listry? Again it's David Clifford but football is a team game and while David is a game changer, the best footballer that anybody has probably seen and the player of this generation or any other generation for that matter, he is firstly human. Secondly as was proved in Fossa's slender one point win over Ardfert last weekend, he needs to get a decent supply of good ball to be seen at his lethal best.

In fact of the two semi-finals, Listry were the most impressive in beating Ballymacelligott on a 2-11 to 1-8 scoreline but it was more impressive than the margin of victory would suggest as they were seven points down early on but turned it around to lead by seven thanks to two Aaron O'Shea goals before half time. Impressive stuff by Listry considering they were playing a Division One side.

Fossa on the other hand were in a battle royal against a fired up Ardfert side and thanks to the Clifford brothers and fifteen Ardfert wides, they fell over the line by a point, 0-14 to 1-10. But semi-finals are for winning so Fossa will not worry too much about the margin or manner of the win, but they will need to improve if they are hoping for their star man to complete a nap hand of trophies.

Looking at Listry it probably is relevant to recall the fact that they were hot favourites to beat Skellig Rangers in the semi-final last year played in Glenbeigh. They were awesome in the opening half and Listry were quick off the blocks.

They dominated midfield where Gary O'Sullivan and Jimmy O'Leary ruled the roost and the Listry movement was mesmerizing with Ruairi Murphy, Ronan Buckley and Aaron O'Shea weaving intricate passages of play and by the first water break, Listry had moved 1-4 to 0-0 ahead and even the Skellig faithful were thinking damage limitation. Ruairi Murphy opened the scoring and then came a magical goal that saw the ball move between four players before Ronan Buckley finished to the net. Listry still had a healthy 1-7 to 0-5 lead at the interval and nobody could predict what was to happen next.

Skellig resumed a fired up side and they hassled and harried Listry who in truth wilted under the intensity and the game was transformed. Padraig O'Sullivan's booming kick-outs started to bypass the Listry midfield and Martin O'Sullivan, Aidan O'Sullivan and Bernard Walsh began to win ball and five unanswered points had the side's level at 1-7 to 0-10 at the water break.

Listry only managed only one point in the second half and lost by three which was some fade out so that will surely drive them on and ensure it will never happen again. But Listry with players like Danny Wren, Daire Murphy, Anthony Kennedy, Jimmy O'Leary, Ronan Buckley, Garry O'Sullivan, Ruairi Murphy and Aaron O'Shea, they will be a driven side and the local derby element adds further intrigue.

Fossa are a side that deserve to be in the final and it would be also true to say that they are the people's (except Listry) favourites and we all know why. Fossa has only lost the one game in the championship and that was against Listry but they are now in the final. It will be different weather conditions and in a neutral venue so that Listry loss might not be that relevant.

The key players on both sides are well known, with David Clifford the man Listry has got to shackle. I have no idea who will pick him up but he will need help. Listry have Ronan Buckley in superb form and will Paudie Clifford be the man to try and curtail him? But Listry have Jimmy O'Leary, Gary O'Sullivan and Ruairi Murphy around the middle and other than Matt Rennie, Ardfert were in control against Fossa last weekend in the middle third.

So Listry has scoring power and Aaron O'Shea is a man to watch as he is a goal scorer. It's an intriguing final and it could go either way but I just have a feeling that Listry are stronger all round and if they can curtail David Clifford by ensuring he doesn't get the ball in his hands, then they might just shade it but I would not bet on it.

BALLYSEEDY

PEOPLE - PLANTS - PLANET

on their way as they led 1-7 to 1-2 at half time and then Chrissy Spiers scored a second goal and that was that. They appeared nervous and once Rathmore ignore the favourites tag on Sunday, they will prove hard to beat.

But An Ghaeltacht have been going along nicely but they had some scares along the way. They lost to relegation threatened Glenbeigh/Glencar by a point in their opening round but then the Micheál Ó Sé managed side got past Kilcummin and then surprised Castleisland Desmonds to make the quarter-finals. While they got nothing easy, the West Kerry side then met Gneeveguilla in the quarter-final and again they showed tremendous character to beat last year's All-Ireland Junior Premier beaten All-Ireland finalists by two points.

When the draw was made for the semi-finals nobody gave An Ghaeltacht a chance of beating Killarney Legion who dropped down last year but the West Kerry side fancied themselves and did not mind the underdog tag. Last Sunday they faced Legion in Tralee in deplorable conditions but they got stuck into the favourites and they went to war. Coming back from four points down in the second half they forced extra time with Dara Ó Sé outstanding and then they went on to dominate extra time to win 0-14 to 0-11 with Dara Ó Sé scoring all but one of his side's points.

But it's now decision day and Rathmore look to be more settled with Shane Ryan and Paul Murphy leading the side but they have plenty of talent. The other Ryan brothers Mark and Cathal, John Moynihan and the top scorer Chrissy Spiers all will ensure that Rathmore will be hard to beat.

But An Ghaeltacht has some top class players themselves but they have injury worries as Tomás Ó Sé and Adam MacAmhlaobh are both doubtful. But in Kerry star Brian Ó Beaglaioich, Éanna Ó Conchúir, Dara Ó Sé and Pdraig Óg Ó Sé, An Ghaeltacht has excellent performers and it may come down to who handles the conditions and the weather on the day.

It could be another cracking final but Rathmore may just be further down the road than their opponents so they get the nod.

VERDICT: Rathmore

Rathmore might just have more in the locker than An Ghaeltacht

By MURT MURPHY

MOST pundits had predicted that it would be a Rathmore v Killarney Legion final but An Ghaeltacht had not read the script and defeated fancied Legion in extra time last Sunday. So it will be Rathmore v An Ghaeltacht that will contest the IFC final on Sunday at the Austin Stack Park Tralee and there is so much at stake that it promises to be a thriller.

But there is more at stake than just a trophy, because there is also the matter of a provincial championship run and probably the biggest carrot is the fact that the winner will return to the senior ranks in 2023 and both clubs believe that it is their rightful place of residence.

An Ghaeltacht might not have a team that they had back in glory days of the noughties when they played an All-Ireland Senior Club final in Croke Park but they suffered an agonising loss to Connacht champions Caltra. But they have been building in recent years and are coming nicely to the boil with the return of Dara Ó Sé from temporary exile in Clonakilty.

But Rathmore believe they belong to the senior ranks with players like Paul Murphy and Shane Ryan and having played with East Kerry in the SFC but successful as they have been, they want to play senior football with their club and their manager Denis Moynihan has made no secret of that fact. They were beaten by Beaufort in last year's semi-final and having gained revenge on the same opponents last weekend, they now want to finish the job.

Rathmore set their stall out early with two big wins over St. Mary's and Glenflesk, scoring a total of 3-38 over the two games. They were now in the quarter-finals so the last game was not crucial and they lost it by a point to Milltown/Castlemaine.

They almost left it behind them again in a cracking quarter-final against Laune Rangers, in a game that went right down to the wire before Rathmore survived by a single point, 3-11 to 1-16.

Then we had the break from early September until last weekend when they beat Beaufort with ease by 2-12 to 1-7 although they made a slow start. But a John Moynihan goal set them
